

Great Religious Gathering at Bowling Green.

The eighty-first annual Convention of the Churches of Christ in Kentucky will be held in the First Christian Church at Bowling Green, September 22-25, 1913. The Convention Church which was dedicated only a few months ago is a beautiful modern $34,000 plant. The program for the convention which has just been issued announces an opening session on Monday night the 22nd with the convention sermon by Rev. R. N. Simpson, of Harrodsburg; the Christian Women's Board of Missions, the national missionary organization of the women of the church of which Mrs. Louise L. Campbell, of Lexington, is the Secretary, will convene on Tuesday; the Kentucky Missionary Convention, H. W. Elliott, Sulphur, Secretary, has its session on Wednesday and Bible School Day will be Thursday, the 25th. On the program are the names of State and National leaders of the church. Rev. P. H. Welshimer, of Canton, Ohio, who superintends the largest Bible School in the world and whose Church leads the Disciples of Christ in membership, will close the convention with an address Thursday night.

An attendance of one thousand or more is expected, representatives coming from all churches of Christ in Kentucky. For this convention the railroad rates will be one and one-half fare plus a quarter for the round trip from all points in Kentucky. Dates of sale September 22-25, good returning September 29th.

Mother of Eighteen Children.

"I am the mother of eighteen children and have the praise of doing more work than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs. C. J. Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering. I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 pounds. I can eat anything I want to, and as much as I want and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will vouch for what I say." Chamberlain's Tablets are for sale by Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Bank-Notes that Speak.

An English bank-note expert has recently invented a method that will insure the paper currency of that country against forgery.

The principle of this invention lies in the application to the edge of a bank-note of a "pictorial" record of some specially arranged phrase. A bank-note so provided would, when placed in a phonograph, reproduce this phrase for the benefit of the bank manager or the person disputing the genuineness of the note.

Assume that the code phrase for a £5 note is "£5 note." This would be extremely unlike, but would serve to illustrate the point. A pictorial record of the oscillations produced during the utterance of the phrase would be made and a die cut capable of reproducing the peculiar wave lines. With this die the edge of £5 notes would be perforated. The note then becomes, in addition to a unit in currency, a phonographic record of its own genuineness.

Anything that is hard to handle like ships, automobiles and locomotives, is always referred to as "She."

Bad For the Teeth.

Quicksilver miners follow the most unhealthy trade in the world. The fumes of the mercury produce constant salivation, and the system becomes permeated with the metal; the teeth of the unfortunate men drop out, they lose their appetite, become emaciated, and as a rule seldom live longer than two years.

Chloride of lime, employed by bleachers, frequently destroys the enamel and dentine of the teeth. But phosphorus, used so largely in the manufacture of lucifer matches, affects a very large number of persons, women, girls, and children greatly preponderating.

People who work in soda factories are affected by the teeth becoming soft and translucent; they break off close to the gums.

Dr. Hesse, of Leipsic, states that bakers are likely to suffer from decayed teeth on account of the flour entering the mouth during work, collecting on and around the teeth, where it decomposes and generates an acid destructive to the dentine.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Overcoming.

If one can keep sweetness of thought and calmness of poise, when bitter and rebellious feelings press hard and close upon the tortured soul—that must be victory of overcoming; that must hold its own reward somewhere, by adding strong fiber to character. That is the time to remember, to the exclusion of complaint, that to be overcomers we must have something to overcome. Aye, and they must be hard things, which press severely on a weak point, in character or temperament, in order that the weakest link in the chain may be fully tested.—Ex.

Caught a Bad Cold.

"Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Duncan, of Tipton, Iowa. "We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that one bottle stopped his cough and cured his cold completely." For sale by Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Sunflower Seed.

A small patch of sunflowers makes ideal shade and furnishes excellent feed for fall use. Economy demands that poultry be kept in comfortable houses, not warm, stuffy, damp, ill-smelling places, but in dry, well-ventilated houses, free from drafts. All windows should be removed in the spring and left open until the cold weather. Economy also demands that only good stock be kept and that the poor producers be disposed of. Hens must also be kept free from lice and mites.

Dependancy

Is often caused by indigestion and constipation, and quickly disappears when Chamberlain's Tablets are taken. For sale by Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Try to Conquer Troubles.

(Glasgow Republican.)

Seeing that it is impossible to dodge them, one's best weapons are courage and good cheer.

You can't dodge them, troubles will come to each of us and often it does seem as though they have the habit of trailing you, so that two or three good, strong troubles will be found waiting wherever you go, bobbing up in the most unexpected places and at the most inconvenient times.

We can't evade trouble, no matter what life gives us. But you can meet your troubles in several ways, and there is where the success or the failure of life lies. If you lie down and let trouble tramp right over you, you are going to lose out. There will be always more reasons for quitting and whining, and less power to bear up bravely against the sad and disagreeable things of life.

But a trouble tackled with courage and good cheer is half conquered. There is nothing so discouraging to trouble as the thought; "others have had to endure this sort of thing; why should I expect to escape?"

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriole, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Married Men and Bachelors.

It is the distum of a physician that married men live longer than single men. The reason is that the single man leads a selfish existence. A married man can double his pleasures. Any time he has a streak of good luck it tickles him all over, but it makes him feel twice as good when he tells his wife about it. And she is so pleased and proud that he feels like a two-year-old. There isn't a chance in the world of a man's arteries hardening or his heart weakening when he can get a million dollars' worth of pleasure out of making his wife happy. Of course when the married man is unfortunate it grieves him that his wife must suffer with him, but if she is the right sort there is sufficient compensation in her sympathy. At any rate, whether he lives longer, the married man lives better—if he is the right sort—and is at least to be credited with a desire to bear his part for the perpetuation of the race and the conservation of society on the terms prescribed by what is known as Christian civilization.—Kentucky Register.

Hogs for Breeding.

For breeding purposes avoid hogs with long legs and snouts, shallow bodies, narrow heads, contracted heart girths, and long pastern combined with a small bone. Also avoid hogs that are too plump and chubby in appearance. The breeding animal should have plenty of size and a massive appearance. A very fat hog is a bad risk, for there is danger of his breeding faculties being impaired.

Fatal Duel.

John Blackford, of Smartwood, Mo., was about to kill a blacksnake, the other day, to stop its theft of eggs, when the thief earned its liberty by saving the life of his mother. The young man had found the nest of a hen that had taken to laying its eggs in a grove some distance away from the house. He also discovered that the blacksnake had been devouring the eggs as fast as the hen laid them. He determined to ambush the snake and kill it. He and his mother watched the hen that day and when the egg was deposited in the nest they crept closer to watch for the thief. In a few minutes the blacksnake appeared, stealthily creeping through the underbrush. Mrs. Blackford was so fascinated at the sight of the blacksnake that she did not hear a soft whirring sound close by her as she stepped back to give John plenty of room in which to dispatch the reptile. Evidently the whirring sound did not escape the blacksnake. Suddenly it stopped and its whole body seemed to stiffen. More quickly than the eye of Mrs. Blackford could follow it darted toward her, but a little to the side. As she screamed and jumped back her son leaped to her rescue, but he stopped, too, for he saw what human beings rarely see, a blacksnake fighting a rattler. The two stepped aside and watched the conflict, which was uneven from the start. The long slim blacksnake was too quick for the more sluggish and poisonous one. With its first leap it had clamped its fangless jaws back of the poison head of the rattler and wound its body tight around the other's. In a few seconds the life had been squeezed out of the big rattlesnake. "That snake can have all the eggs on this farm for all o' me," remarked young Blackford when it was over, "and what's more, I'll never kill another blacksnake as long as I live." "That's just the way I feel," said Mrs. Blackford.

Don't Let Baby Suffer With Eczema and Skin Eruptions.

Babies need a perfect skin-covering. Skin eruptions cause them not only intense suffering, but hinder their growth. Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment can be relied on for relief and permanent cure of suffering babies whose skin eruptions have made their lives miserable. "Our baby was afflicted with breaking out of the skin all over the face and scalp. Doctors and skin specialists failed to help. We tried Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment and were overjoyed to see baby completely cured before one box was used," writes Mrs. Strubler, Dubuque, Iowa. Paul Drug Co. or by mail, 50c. Selection of Cockereis.

All other things being equal, pick out for a breeder the cockerel that matures first, as indicated by red comb and wattles, general scappiness and early crowing. His offspring will develop earlier than those of his slower maturing brother. They will lay earlier on the female side and be ready to kill earlier on the male side.

What We Never Forget.

According to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivalled for piles, corns or cold-sores. Only 25 cents at Paul Drug Co. Ad.

Odd Proposals.

In Switzerland, among the remote Alpine hamlets and villages, especially in the Bernese Oberland, there still exist ancient and pretty customs of proposing marriage by the language of flowers. If a maid accepts a bouquet of edelweiss from a man she at the same time accepts him as her fiancé, the idea being that the man has risked his life to obtain the flowers for the woman he loves. Another method which exists in the canton of Glarus is for the young man to place a flower pot containing a single rose and a note on the window sill of the girl's room when she is absent from home and wait—perhaps days for reply. If the maid takes the rose the young man boldly enters the house to arrange matters with her parents, but if the rose is allowed to fade away the proposal is rejected without a single word having been exchanged between the couple. Sometimes a fickle girl will keep a young man waiting a day or two for an answer, but whatever in may be it is considered final.

Improving Hog Industry.

When farmers realize the possibilities of exclusive pork growing as a specialized branch of the animal industry, and evolve systems of farm management adapted to the business, it will become attractive to business farmers, and herds of well-bred hogs will become common in many localities where few good hogs are now seen.

The Men Who Succeed.

It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short.
